THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

COUNT GHERARDESCA WILL BE MARRIED IN NEW YORK TODAY.

After the Summer Abroad, He Expects to Return Here With His Bride—Vanderlip-Cox Wedding—Notes.

Miss Harriet Taylor and Count Giuseppe della Gherardesca of the Italian embassy will be married at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Henry A. C. Taylor, 3 East 71st street, New York, today. Only the relatives and personal friends of the couple, with the Italian ambassador, his staff and Mrs. Mayor des Planches, will witness the ceremony. The bride's only attendant will be her cousin, Miss Albertina Taylor Winthrop, and there will also be two pages in attendance on the bride, the little son of the bride, Mr. Joseph Fisher of this city, who married a Miss Donnelly, a sister of the late Edward Donnelly. His mother, the Countess Alberto della Gherardesca, arrived from Florence, Italy, last week, and will return shortly to her home. The count and his bride will pass next winter in Washington.

A pleasant surprise was tendered Rev. Alexander C. Garner, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church, at his home, 1921 17th street northwest, Monday evening, when the members of his congregation presented him with a handsome gold watch. The event, which was a most happy manner, and an excellent entertainment was given.

Invitations have been issued for the commencement exercises of the Chevy Chase school. Mrs. L. M. Bouillon, principal. Saturday evening, May 23, at 8 o'clock. The exercises will be held at the school building, 1000 Chevy Chase road, and will begin at 9 o'clock.

The marriage last night in Chicago of Miss Narcissa Cox to Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip, former assistant secretary of the treasury, was a notable event. Dr. L. P. Mercer of Chicago, who officiated, was assisted by his father, Mr. Charles E. Cox, entered the church alone, while a double quartet of chorists, Misses Clara and Helen Cox, was the bride and groom received. The bride, who was given away by her father, Mr. Charles E. The date of the graduation exercises of the 1903 class of the School of Nursing of Columbia and Children's Hospitals were held last evening in Columbian University Hall, and were attended by a large number of friends of the graduates. The hall was tastefully decorated, the American flag forming the distinctive feature of the display. Across the front of the platform were numerous bouquets of cut flowers, gifts to the graduates from parents and friends.

The program for the occasion consisted of prayer by Rev. Dr. Alfred Harding, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, a brief address by Commissioner H. B. F. Farland; a report of the training school; the announcement of the graduates by Dr. George W. Ackers, dean of the school; and the conferring of diplomas by Gen. John M. Wilson, president of the board of trustees of the institution.

In presenting Mr. Macfarland to the audience General Wilson referred in highly complimentary terms to the services rendered by the District by the Commissioner and of the esteem in which he is held by the people of Washington. In his brief address Commissioner Macfarland suggested that there ought to be a law for the examination and registration of trained nurses in the District of Columbia, as there is for the examination and registration of physicians. He read a resolution passed by the International Congress of Nurses at Buffalo in 1901, in which it was declared the duty of the nursing profession of every country to work for suitable legislative enactments regulating the education of nurses and protecting the interests of the public by securing the state examinations and state registration, with the proper penalties for enforcing the same.

Mr. Macfarland commended the good work of this training school and the patient and faithful endeavors of the graduates. He said that he did not doubt they would practice their profession in the spirit of the remark made by one of its leaders: "When all is said and done for the care of sick people, the best is none too good, and while it is perfectly right for women to go into nursing to make a living, there should be no place in our profession for any one who does not bring to it the highest principles and the warmest human sympathies."

Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Stabler sailed today for Jamaica, West Indies, to be gone about three weeks.

The lawn fete yesterday for the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital added another scenic event to the varied list of the present season. From 3 to 10 the house 1120 Vermont avenue and the spacious garden were the scene of the service of visitors, dancing being carried on in the house to the music of the Marine Band orchestra.

The cake table, under the direction of the ladies of St. John's Parish, was presided over by Mrs. Roland Cotton Smith, Miss B. C. Saxton, Miss Ellen Wilke, Mrs. William Turner, Mrs. J. Moody, Miss Bettie Shaffer, Miss Bryan, Mrs. Griffith John and Mrs. A. C. Post. The ladies in charge of the fruit punch were Mrs. Mont, Griffith, Mrs. M. C. Foster, Mrs. Horace Cooper, Miss Mary M. Amber, Misses Virginia and Bessie Dorsey, Miss Stephanie Prescott, Miss Ethel Hatcher and Miss Mary Lothrop. Fancy tables were under the direction of Mrs. A. C. Post, Mrs. B. C. Saxton, Mrs. L. A. Barr and Mrs. Cornelia Bradford. Mrs. Gosson told fortunes. The A B C table, under the direction of members of St. Paul's Church, where aprons, bags, caps and dusters were sold, was in charge of Miss Mason, Mrs. Mulligan, Miss Whiting and Mrs. Gibson, wife of General Gibson, who under the shade of trees ornamented with lemon was dispensed by Mrs. Alexander Pope, Miss Nellie Shedd, Mrs. Marvin Custer and Mrs. I. Goodnow. The fruit stand was under the direction of Mrs. J. R. Johnston, Mrs. Edward M. Mix, Mrs. Clifford S. Walton, Miss Doolittle, the Misses Johnston, Miss Nellie Coleman, Miss Washburn, Mrs. M. Pool, Miss Emma and Miss Ashby. Mrs. Roosevelt sent flowers that were sold at the booth in charge of Miss Florence Woods, Miss Ruth Smith, Mrs. Clement Brown and the Misses Nannie and Emma Hume.

The waitresses, all dressed in white and wearing crepe paper picture hats, made a group well worth the price of admission. In addition to dancing, moving pictures will be shown this evening until the close of the fete. Bishop Satterlee was present yesterday.
